TOUR #3: THE AMERICAN LEGION RIDERS EXPO

The American Legion and the American Legion Riders together have raised close to six million dollars for The American Legion Legacy Fund. However, few of us have gotten the opportunity to see the American Legion Riders do what they do best….ride motorcycles. The 2012 National Convention is the perfect opportunity for our Legion family to join the American Legion Riders and share their enthusiasm of the sport of motorcycling and taking care of our veterans and their families.

“The American Legion Riders Expo” is a planned series of Rider social events, range and classroom training, Rider program development courses, skills training, and Motorcycle Safety Foundation exhibits. Stout Army Air Field and the Joint Forces Headquarters of the Indiana National Guard have provided two hangers, parking, range areas and classrooms to host the events. The expo will have three primary tracks, combined with several floating opportunities throughout the 2-day event for the riders to participate in activities and our Legion family to observe.
