

Blair has been a “dual member” of the American Legion Family for 20 years. While Blair is an honorably discharged veteran of the United States Navy, he has also earned his eligibility in the Sons of The American Legion through his father, Robert Blair Miles, a retired U.S. Army EOD Specialist who served in Korea and Vietnam.

Blair spent the first 15 years in the Detachment of Ohio, and is currently an active member of Post 88 in Mobile, Alabama, where he serves as the Judge Advocate.

Blair has held all offices in the SAL from Sgt@Arms, to the current National Vice Commander.

Blair served as the Alt. National Executive Committeeman from 2015-2017, and served as the Detachment Commander from 2017-2019.

Blair has served on several Detachment Committees and Commissions, and was the Chairman of the POW/MIA Commission and the Membership Committee. He also served on the VE&E Commission at the National level. As a “dual member”, Blair has also served on Department level Committees and Commissions within the Alabama American Legion family.

Blair is a graduate of the National Management Institute, The Legion Extension Institute and the Commanders Training course.

Blair is currently retired from the Federal Aviation Administration, after a 30 year career as an Air Traffic Controller. When he's not hunting or fishing, he's serving our Veterans and The American Legion programs. He now looks forward to assisting our National Commander in:
