National Update
- Special Convention Edition - August 20, 2017
- Official Newsletter of the Sons of The American Legion
- Sons representing a record 50 out of 55 Detachments gathered in Reno, NV this weekend for their 46th annual National Convention. Another record was the 919 delegates registered, an increase made possible by the all-time high of more than 365,000 S.A.L. members worldwide so far in 2017. That’s 2,000 more than one year ago.
- National Commander Jeff Frain gaved the convention to order early Friday afternoon. Three days of meetings, reports, awards, and guest speakers culminated on Sunday with new S.A.L. national officers being elected and sworn in.
- “This was a good year. Everything ran smoothly,” reported National Assistant Adjutant Emeritus Harold Thompson, Jr (NE), Chairman of the Sons’ National Convention Credentials Committee.

“Veterans are my passion”
- The newest National Commander of the Sons of The American Legion is Danny Smith. He is the first-ever S.A.L. National Commander from the Detachment of Nebraska.
- Smith is a 44 year continuous member of the Sons. His eligibility is through his father, a Korean War Air Force veteran. His parents were both charter members of their respective American Legion Post and Auxiliary Unit. He and his wife, Donna, have been married 42 years. Their children and grandchildren are all American Legion Family members. Danny has worked in the construction industry for over 46 years. He and his family have all served as volunteers at their near-by veterans home and he has been active in several other community organizations, as well.
- The new commander hits the ground running, wanting to pull closer together with other branches.

Big boost for TFA program
- Shortly before the start of their 46th National Convention, members of the S.A.L. National Executive Committee held their pre-convention meeting and voted to adopt several resolutions. One would authorize the creation of an official Trophy and Awards Manual that will explain each of the organization’s national awards and the procedures for reviewing and presenting them. It will be made available online.
- Another resolution would create a decorative ribbon to be given to all Detachments that earn the prestigious “Triple Nickel” designation by reaching 105 percent of their member-Sons came into Reno this year riding a wave of record-setting successes chalked up over the past 12 months. In addition to membership records, S.A.L. contributions to The American Legion Child Welfare Foundation this year surpassed all previous fundraising efforts and many Detachments raised more money for CWF than ever before. The Legacy Run motorcycle convoy raised a new record amount of money to benefit The Legion’s Legacy Fund and a record number of Sons not only rode in the 1,400 mile trek but also served in leadership positions throughout.

On Friday morning, National Executive Committee members of the S.A.L. voted to move $300,000 from the organization’s reserves to The Legion’s National Endowment Fund for use by the Temporary Financial Assistance program. Once approved by The Legion’s own N.E.C., it will be the largest one-time shift of reserve funds made by the S.A.L. and will do much good for the families of veterans and others in need. One other milestone this year was news that the S.A.L. has been given a two-year appointment to the prestigious Veterans Administration National Advisory Committee of the Department of Veterans Affairs Voluntary Service, a move that acknowledges enormous contributions of time and money Sons have poured into veterans’ affairs in recent years.

Newly-elected officers of the Sons will have their work cut out for them selves if they want to arrive in Minneapolis next August with a fistful of new accomplishments. But the bar has been set high 45 times before and records are always there to be broken.

Earl Rutkofsky (MI) was the first S.A.L. Past National Commander to ride the entire Run 11 years ago. It’s become a custom for him to give American Legion National Commanders a ride on his bike on at least one leg of the trip. Two other Sons PNC’s that have become leaders within the Run are Joe Gladden (MD) and Bill Sparwasser (MD).

“Almost half of the Assistant Road Captains were S.A.L. and there were at least four Sons as Tail Gunners,” said Sparwasser. “Sons ridership was about double from last year. About 20 percent of those involved this year were S.A.L. I do it because I see the direct benefit to our post-911 veterans. I personally know a young lady who was awarded a Legacy Fund scholarship.”

Ron Moore, N.E.C. for the Detachment of France, rode five days from his home in Washington, DC to arrive in Kansas for the start of this year’s Run.

“I can’t say it’s fun,” according to Moore. “It’s a very stressful ride. You don’t see anything except the guy in front of you because you must be sure you’re in control of your motorcycle at all times. But, to ride for the children of our fallen and disabled vets, it makes me feel I’ve given something back to this country and the veterans.”

of The Legion Family tree.

“We’re all brothers and sisters in this organization,” says Smith. “I would really like to see us come together as an organization and work together with those common goals we all share. We can do it.”

“I’ve adopted The Legion’s Endowment Fund and also the National Emergency Fund as my big programs this year. I know that Sons will continue to support Child Welfare. I don’t believe I need to urge them to do that because everyone knows that’s our premier program. I just want to take support for additional American Legion projects to the next level, to the level we have done with Child Welfare, and make more of them premier programs within the Sons, as well.”

“I want every member of the Sons to pause and remember that we’re all privileged to be a member because someone served and sacrificed. Veterans are my passion.”

with The Legion’s upcoming 100th anniversary celebration.

Perhaps most importantly, the N.E.C. voted to approve the transfer of $300,000 from its reserves to The American Legion National Endowment Fund to be used for the Temporary Financial Assistance Program. It’s the largest single donation ever made to a Legion program from the Sons’ reserves and it’s being made in recognition of The Legion’s upcoming 100th anniversary celebration.

All of the N.E.C.’s actions this weekend will take effect if and when approved by The Legion’s own N.E.C.
